Railroads.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

I see that the Portland "Committee of Seventeen" have submitted their report for harmonising the various interests of the Oregon railroads, which has some interesting features in it. It appears, however, the committee were more concerned about Portland interests than the interests of the State at large.

The branch road from Humboldt to the Willamette valley [illegible] ignored by that committee in their very able report. This circumstance, I presume, could hardly have been accidental. I have noticed that individuals in other sections are particularly spiteful towards this branch road. Friend Quick, of Hillsboro, could see no "national argument" in favor of such a road. A writer in the Albany Journal [illegible] Railroad from Portland to Humboldt valley will be of no service to the [illegible] interests of Oregon, if not a positive disadvantage. [illegible] Now I presume there is no [illegible] manifestly and readily than by attempting to inform the public upon a subject that he does not [illegible]. This appears to be the condition of the gentleman above referred to. Although the first could see no "national argument" in favor of the Humboldt branch road to Portland, I suppose he could see "national argument" of an unanswerable character in favor of running the Willamette valley road around by Hillsboro and the Wapato lake, instead of the direct route to the State capital.

I am not [illegible], however, that I understand what friend Quick means by "national argument," but supposing he means advantage to the nation, I shall proceed to point out a few particulars in which such a road would benefit the nation, viz.: First, If such a branch road was now built, and the Central Pacific in operation, the government would not have to send troops, munitions of war, army stores, &c., from Humboldt junction, on a circuit of [illegible] hundred miles, to reach Portland [illegible]. Second, it would not have to send Indian goods on a [illegible] of two thousand miles to reach Fort Klamath, as now by way of San Francisco, Portland, Dalles and Canyon City. Third, The government would not then as now, have to pay $250,000 annually, for transporting the mails from San Francisco to Portland. On that branch road the [illegible] could be [illegible] for $10,000 annually.

Now a few words for [illegible] friend, who thinks it would be no advantage to Oregon [illegible] age." I ask that gentleman if he knows what becomes of the Oregon flour, fruit, etc., shipped from Portland to San Francisco. Presuming that he does not, I will inform him what becomes of a large portion of it. It is bought by California merchants, run up to Sacramento City, put on the [illegible], run over the [illegible] to the Nevada [illegible]. That is what becomes of it. Now, suppose this branch road was in operation, we, the agriculturists of Oregon could supply these Nevada miners with flour and fruit at about as little cost as the San Francisco [illegible] now do. Is that Oregon [illegible] would [illegible] the immense profits that have been [illegible] San Francisco rich since the opening of their [illegible] mining districts east of the Sierra Nevada[illegible]

A gentleman of this place, recently from Nevada, by way of the railroad, saw hundreds of tons of Oregon flour piled in the depots of the Central Pacific railroad, east of the [illegible] to Nevada, destined to the Nevada and Humboldt mines.

The Nevada mines and the Oregon trade have contributed largely to make San Francisco what she [illegible] of her yet? I may say to agriculturists of the Willamette valley, and all other Oregon interests west of the Cascade mountains, that without this identical branch road we will always remain tributary to California; with that road we will be placed upon an equality with that State, so far as trade and [illegible] with all the [illegible] interior [illegible] The Salt Lake [illegible] Columbia river [illegible]. Oregon agriculturists can never afford to transport their produce over that circuitous route to the mines south of Snake river, much less to points where California merchants are now sending Oregon flour. The people of Eastern Oregon will be just about as much benefited by the [illegible] and Portland Branch road as the people of Western Oregon would by the Salt Lake and Columbia branch. And as Western Oregon comprises four-fifths of the agricultural country of the State, every cultivator of the soil in that section ought to favor the Humboldt and Portland [illegible] road.

Again, Western Oregon [illegible] for immigration directly [illegible] the States without their having to circle a thousand miles round through California or the [illegible] bend of Snake river, through W[illegible] Territory. I am surprised too, [illegible] so little interest in this branch road; why that committee [illegible] in the Salt Lake branch than the Humboldt, is to many mysterious, when everything that benefits Western Oregon, especially the Willamette Valley, benefits [illegible]. What would Portland be without the Willamette Valley? Cut off the [illegible] of this valley from her, and her splendid business houses would soon [illegible] habitation for bats.

With your permission, Mr. Editor, in a future communication I will speak of the propriety for Government aid to these railroads as I view it.

AGRICULTURIST.

GRANT.—Republicans who are not yet quite willing to declare in favor of General Grant for the Republican candidacy for President, base their reasons for reluctance on his political reticence. Nevertheless, his record has been all the time undeniably on the side of Republicanism, and we can [illegible] fully endorse the following [illegible] reasons for his nomination, furnished by the Washington Chronicle:

The whole key of our future is in the success of reconstruction. If that is lost, all is lost.—Every interest depends upon its salvation.—Every interest of religion and of commerce, and above all the whole destiny of the colored race, are involved in it. So conscious of it are the rebels and copperheads that they are straining every nerve to annihilate it, and to restore the old order of things upon its ruins. Already they declare that reconstruction must be fought and delayed till a new Congress can be elected next year to repeal it.—This hope explains their fierce efforts to force a [illegible] in [illegible] to Andrew Johnson's appeal; and to this hope may be referred their avowed determination to defeat the new Republican constitutions when these are presented to the loyal voters of the South. General Grant is more identified with the faithful execution of the laws of reconstruction than any other living man.—He has been the determined obstacle in the way of its enemies. He has done more than any other agency to perfect these laws and to secure obedience to them. He believes with Sheridan, Sickles, Canby, Schofield, Thomas, and Ord, that the ballot is better than the bayonet in the hands of the freedmen, and that if the South is ever to be saved, it must be by her loyal people.

With his name at the head of our ticket next year, all traitors will be notified that their expectations of a new rebellion are doomed to fatal overthrow. The Presidential campaign will be made doubly glorious, because it will hasten, under his auspices, the full success of Republican restoration in the South. But more than all, Gen. Grant's candidacy will give the Republicans a new Congress (the Forty-first) as radical and thorough as the [illegible] the hopes of the enemy, and the division of our friends, and it will give our great party a new lease of power, during which, profiting by the lessons of the past, we can perfect our full mission, and leave nothing to the tender mercies of the rebels and Copperheads.

"NEGRO EQUALITY."—We commend the following to the Albany Democrat:

James Solomon, a pure African from the Gold Coast, has just taken a first class certificate in the Oxford middle class examination, and is about to matriculate at the London University.

John Hale, the "vetran horse thief" of Maine, who has spent 30 of his 80 years in a State prison, said to an acquaintance a short time since that if he could only die with a stolen horse in his possession before he was detected by the owner, he should be perfectly happy!

[From the [illegible]]

Eugene City—Railroad—Jottings, etc.

Eugene City is a neat little village, situated at the head of the Willamette valley, on the river, surrounded by a large and [illegible] district of farming country, its [illegible] and advantages promise a fair future. Steamers run to this point three or four months in the year, carrying large quantities of freight up and down the river. We would judge from the number of [illegible] and business houses generally, that there would be lively there, but the old stereotyped cry of "hard times" is heard on all [illegible]. A great many men have moved there, [illegible] and [illegible] good business with a view to the "railroad." It will be remembered that quite a number of the "railroad incorporators" live in Eugene, and have shown the [illegible] of that district the "superior advantages" of Eugene [illegible]. They "can't see" the railroad question in any other light than running from that point, out through the sage plains and deserts of Nevada, to intersect the [illegible] on the Humboldt, a distance of over three hundred miles over a section of country comparatively worthless for farming [illegible], the high, cold and [illegible] scarcely, and in fact as [illegible] as one could [illegible]. The Eugene [illegible] that as there was ever [illegible] accomplished, then Douglas, Jackson and the [illegible] counties [illegible] play [illegible] to Eugene. E. J. Peagra has [illegible] to lobby for that scheme; the [illegible] has always been a "cat's paw" for [illegible] clique [illegible] always [illegible] and has [illegible] pulled the [illegible] Peagra & Co., get the [illegible], the O. C. M. Road a road leading out into the sand hills and sage plains, [illegible] to go, or ever will. They [illegible] taking at [illegible] in that [illegible], and [illegible] lies, partly [illegible] and [illegible] & Co. think if by any [illegible] the [illegible] be run out [illegible] that [illegible] they might yet [illegible] a point. [illegible] awake to ever build a rail[illegible] that district, while the face of this [illegible] level, and labor and material [illegible] obtained. It does [illegible] man would lay down all [illegible] look at the [illegible] fairly that he [illegible] consistent it would be to run [illegible] and leave it out in the [illegible]. The Journal is laboring hard, in the [illegible] road from that [illegible] to the [illegible] the [illegible] justly too, that a [illegible] no advantage to [illegible] on the other hand [illegible] the interest of the [illegible] have only one [illegible] it very [illegible] to tap the [illegible] a rail[illegible] Oregon. We feel that [illegible] Oregon to help us [illegible]

No district of country in the [illegible] road, was [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] Road in [illegible] that [illegible] had for our [illegible] rule the [illegible] months, and when the [illegible] the well [illegible] the "Arabian [illegible] care not [illegible] they awake their [illegible] the [illegible] now, here in Oregon, all we look [illegible] a few more [illegible] and [illegible]

Cultivation of Fruit [illegible]

The visitor who [illegible] the markets of Paris cannot fail to be [illegible] by the size and beauty of the fruits and [illegible]. There are [illegible] and [illegible] variety of [illegible] tract attention no less for their size and [illegible] condition, than for vast quantity [illegible] due and large of their kind. These are due to the wonderful [illegible] of the French gardeners, who are [illegible] by any others, either here or in Europe, in the art of cultivating [illegible]

One cause of this [illegible] is the [illegible] of the French [illegible] the [illegible] men of acts and [illegible] lots, and plants [illegible] known to the market. [illegible] himself up to the [illegible] of a [illegible] and by study and [illegible] manures, soils and [illegible] the production of a perfect crop of his [illegible] is also [illegible] of labor than we are, as in fact they we need be. He seldom [illegible] his [illegible] low; crop [illegible] crop is [illegible] the cauliflower is set [illegible] to spread as soon as the [illegible] the rows of asparagus are planted [illegible] tatoes, lettuce, &c., in such a manner as to keep the ground constantly fruitful, and [illegible] the [illegible] becomes frosty, and the sun [illegible] share of its forcing power, large [illegible] are employed, one of which is placed over the plant—and heat is thus [illegible] its full growth is fully att[illegible]

The enormous size of the French asparagus is chiefly due to the manner of planting. [illegible] of setting the plants closely together as we do, a space of at least six [illegible] square is allowed to each "stool," which [illegible] a large amount of [illegible] from the soil, and [illegible] a strong and solid plant. Each [illegible] is [illegible] manured repeatedly every [illegible], the soil being carefully scraped away down to the roots, the [illegible] placed around them and the earth put back again.

The French system of cultivating the [illegible], pear and [illegible] is also [illegible]. The [illegible] are all grafted and dwarfed. A strong wire is [illegible] along in front of each row, [illegible] feet above the ground. Upon this wire a single branch of each tree is trained, and as [illegible] well started, the branch is made by heavy [illegible] the only fruit bearing one on the tree. The [illegible] is that the entire strength of the tree goes to the nourishing of the fruit upon this branch, and this fruit [illegible] large and fair in proportion. This process, by the by, is [illegible] from the Chinese.

The pear, however, is also largely grown in the pyramidal and other forms, but almost always from dwarfed stock.

In the cultivation of the peach, the French gardeners have shown a [illegible] and [illegible] skill. Near the town of Montreuil, a few miles only from Paris, there is a large number of gardens, enclosed in whitewashed walls, against the surface of which peach trees are trained in many fanciful forms. One of these is known as the "Royal Peach." This is a [illegible] to figure in very large letters against the wall the name "Napoleon," a single branch going to the formation of each letter, and the whole surrounded by a [illegible] of two large boughs trained in a circle.

The Portland (Me.) Argus says that a man in Sweden, in that State, has formally [illegible] with his brother to take out of his way his aged and invalid wife, and support, clothe and [illegible] her for one thousand dollars. She has been a hard working, faithful wife, and has raised a large family of children, who have [illegible] known what it was to be disgraced till now. One of them, a man of twenty years and [illegible], cried like a child when he heard of the affair. He had offered to support her himself, if the old man would give him his farm to do it with, which was refused. And now this man sends his wife from home, where she has "outlived her usefulness," to die among strangers. He has not even the excuse of poverty to plead, for he is accounted the richest man in the town.

The New Orleans Picayune is opposed to "procuring white labor." It says: "We want white men here to go to work for themselves and not procure labor. The system of mercantile farming which has so long cursed the South, and bred debt and [illegible], must cease, or our [illegible] will become ruin."

[illegible]

In August 1861, the Corvallis [illegible] cratic [illegible] had a long [illegible] itself and the [illegible] of the Union army at Bull Run. In its [illegible] it gave utterance to the following [illegible]:

What of the [illegible] daily and [illegible] up to the God of [illegible] voking Him to [illegible] the battle of the [illegible]. How have they been [illegible] deaf to the [illegible] and [illegible] the [illegible] to say the shining lights in [illegible] have received that no God has [illegible] hands the abolition of [illegible]

The Daily Oregonian.

TUESDAY MORNING, DEC. 31, 1867.

"What it is to be a Democrat."

Diligent readers of newspapers have perhaps observed that information on this subject, put in the shape of a series of brief paragraphs, has of late been circulated pretty widely by the Democratic press. In order to give this Democratic decalogue the benefit of a wider circulation than it has yet obtained in Oregon, we transfer it, paragraph by paragraph, to our columns.

1. To be a Democrat is to be a lover of good government.

Certainly; a lover of a government devoid of power to enforce its authority.

2. A supporter of good laws and as few of them as possible.

Just so; a supporter of the laws in the manner in which the Democracy "supported" them from 1860 to 1865.

3. A defender of the rights of the minority.

Quite natural and proper; as that party has a fair prospect of being in a minority perpetually.

4. A respecter of the rights of others.

Exactly; when others have the power to make their rights respected.

5. A warrior for the weak and a defender of the defenceless.

Just so again; as is evidenced by Democratic [illegible] of the negro and the adoption of the principle that the weak and defenceless have no rights [illegible] the Democrat is bound to respect.

6. An advocate for the greatest good to the greatest number, without injury to the few.

A Democratic principle to which that party [illegible] by declaring its sympathy with the Southern faction that tried to destroy the Union.

7. He believes in the right of the people to eat, drink and wear whatsoever they wish.

To carry out which principle he invents "Maine laws" and puts them in force; and when he [illegible], charges his political opponents with originating them.

8. He hates military government, wars upon civil or military despotism, and despises anarchy [illegible].

This [illegible] cardinal point. He hates all military [illegible] except that of the late Southern [illegible] which he never urged a word [illegible] wars upon all attempts to enforce the national authority, calling such a policy [illegible] and [illegible] therefore [illegible] opposed to all measures [illegible] to disturb or overthrow the [illegible] government of President Davis.

9. Democrats stand by the inherent rights of all [illegible] and communities, and [illegible] the [illegible]. Such as God [illegible] as he would have them continue.

In Democratic [illegible] one of the [illegible] of any combination of men who may be [illegible] with the Government, is to revolt, [illegible] and establish a rival Government [illegible]. This is what is [illegible]. It is said that Democrats stand by the inherent rights of all men and communities, [illegible] the races [illegible] that the weak ought to be the slaves of the strong; that it is the right of the latter to [illegible], and to rob him of [illegible]. And as the Democrat [illegible] the races continue as God made them, [illegible] that there has been any [illegible] the [illegible] of our race [illegible] the time [illegible] barbarians in the [illegible] of the woods of Germany, [illegible] ago [illegible] is Democracy. [illegible] very good [illegible] it is.

[illegible] Not at all [illegible].

[illegible] are manifesting an [illegible] to any further grant of U. S. [illegible] by the Government in aid of additional [illegible]. To show the nature of this [illegible] it may be mentioned that the Chicago [illegible] grants in what it [illegible] which it [illegible]

[illegible] railroad [illegible] from [illegible] to the Pacific, [illegible] and [illegible] donations of land and bonds [illegible]. The grant already made for the construction of one road will be made a precedent, and [illegible] will enable [illegible] to procure others equally [illegible] the only use of [illegible] the [illegible] of their originator and [illegible] they may manage to [illegible]

The [illegible] (Iowa) Hawkeye, takes up the [illegible] any further grant [illegible] in the most emphatic [illegible]. That [illegible]

As to [illegible] now asked for railroads looking to [illegible] the Pacific, we hold that they must be [illegible] and that the [illegible] who proposes or approves them, at [illegible] is palpably putting himself to sale. The [illegible] given by existing laws to the Pacific [illegible] of July [illegible] and only [illegible] upon the [illegible] of the political [illegible] of a railroad [illegible] of the continent. The people submit quietly to this expenditure because they know the road is [illegible] and are therefore little disposed to inquire too minutely into its cost to the public. [illegible] we join of the [illegible] opinion, that the road, when completed, will pay the public for [illegible] money required [illegible]. They want the road and are willing to pay at [illegible] outrageous price for it.

But [illegible] the [illegible] nor will any [illegible] portion of the people ever see the [illegible] construction of another road at [illegible]. The public were never able to see the propriety of so many branch connections at this end of the road, and look upon all [illegible] which common [illegible] would have avoided. The [illegible] is illustrated by the [illegible] from Sioux City, which was to strike west [illegible] Nebraska, but which in fact is following the Missouri river south to make a connection at Omaha. They are making [illegible] judge, for the [illegible] and entirely needless expense to the country. All the branches were absolutely [illegible] addition to the proper cost of the road, and the men who insisted upon them were unfit to fill the [illegible] they occupied.

The [illegible] from which these extracts are [illegible] says that there will be a strenuous opposition to grants for additional roads, and is [illegible] that the [illegible] from that part of the country will oppose all of them. We quote further from its article:

"The great political and commercial object will be [illegible] by the road now under construction. This they desire to push through. Any new road proposed they will leave on the same basis as they rest upon elsewhere. If commercial wants or local interest demand them, let those interests build and own them. If a railroad is absolutely required it will pay to build it. Those which depend upon [illegible] from the public are not wanted. They are merely schemes to put money in the pockets of the few at the expense of the many."

The Hawkeye concludes its article by saying that there is scarcely a district in the country in which the nomination of a member who should vote for aid for additional railroads would not be followed by his defeat at the polls. Now this is [illegible] talk for us in this part of the Republic to hear. In short, we don't like it at all. If we obtain railroad connection with the East we [illegible] have aid from the Government, and such articles as these we have quoted from are not calculated to improve our prospects or add to our good humor. Our object in publishing the extracts we have given is to show how the proposition to grant the aid that is asked for is received in other parts of the country.

The San Francisco Times remarks that in the matter of making treaties Mr. Seward seems to be "going it alone," entirely forgetful of the fact that there is such a body as the Senate of the United States, and that the consent of two-thirds of its members is necessary to the ratification of a treaty with any foreign power.

No Step Backward.

The promptitude with which Congress met the absurd suggestion of the Executive that it should abandon its policy at a time when the success of that policy is well-nigh assured, and accept his dictation as the supreme law in settling the whole problems of reconstruction, shows plainly that the Republican party will not recede from any position which it has decisively taken. That is settled. There will be no abatement in its leading measures or elementary ideas. A "deck load" of irrelevant issues which were placed upon it last fall, but which it is no part of its business to maintain or carry, will, of course, go overboard; but the party will hold fast to the principles and measures of reconstruction which it has adopted, and go into the Presidential election upon this platform, wholly unincumbered with other issues. While the party will not think of going back, it will not accept any visionary theories as a part of its creed, or incorporate in its platform the ideas of any of the so-called reformers upon subjects which have no legitimate connection with national politics.

There is nothing in recent events which should cause discouragement. It is a law of universal application that checks occur in great popular movements; but while they may temporarily retard, they produce comparatively little effect on general results. This observation might be illustrated by numerous examples drawn from our own history. The sweeping Democratic triumph of 1856 did not prevent, but rather contributed to, the great Republican victory in 1860; the Democratic successes of 1862, which were claimed as a verdict against the emancipation policy of President Lincoln, did not prevent the consummation of this greatest and most glorious act in our history. Every great river has its eddies and whirlpools; nevertheless the current rolls on with scarcely any abatement in the energy of its flow.

An eloquent writer in a leading eastern journal states these truths with so much clearness and force that we transfer a paragraph or two from his article to our columns. After remarking that in the great movements now making throughout all civilized nations for the establishment of personal liberty and absolute equality before the laws, there are not only many formidable hindrances but multiplied reactions, he says:

> The friends of amelioration and progress in each country have their own peculiar difficulties to surmount. These grow out of different national temperaments, conditions and tendencies. An American, looking from the distance of three thousand miles at Europe, and enlightened by history as to the true meaning of events, sees this with a distinctness that is highly instructive. England painfully struggled out of feudalism, taking centuries to accomplish the process, and still slowly toils on towards complete disenthralment. France, long patient under gigantic evils, was at length wrought up to the most towering frenzy, and speedily gained emancipation through an ocean of blood consequent upon a Reign of Terror; but since then the work has been fitfully and inconsistently prosecuted. Germany has been more docile and uncomplaining; but has pushed on with more even tread in the path of [illegible]. Italy has been swayed at times by marvellous boldness and enterprise, and again by unaccountable hesitation and supineness. Notwithstanding all these vicissitudes immense changes have come over Europe of beneficial import. At certain periods the popular movements have appeared to die entirely out, and the old despotisms to have regained all their former strength and prestige. Conservatism has facilitated itself and been congratulated by parasites and menials, on its conquests and impregnable defences against farther assaults. But these advantages have been only [illegible] and transient. Feudalism has not been re-established. Agitation has not ceased. Popular [illegible] have not diminished in volume of stream or velocity of flow. Imperialism by "Divine Right" has been driven from among men; and governments based on Universal Suffrage are everywhere being recognized as the only legitimate [illegible]. The end is not yet. In all European countries the political atmosphere is to-day charged with electricity, not foreboding evils to people but perils to dynasties.
>
> The United States presents no exception to phenomena elsewhere uniform. Many of us may not have the power of abstraction to such a degree as to enable us to comprehend the movements which are manifest in their true nature and relations; but we should not fail to infer that what is happening here is analogous in all essential features to what is transpiring elsewhere. The flow of human society is not backward, but constantly onward. Conservatives may impede, but they cannot stop it; and are sure themselves to be borne away by the force they deplore, and to be made subsidiary to the ends they would gladly [illegible].

Rev. Dr. Bellows, writing from Berne, Switzerland, makes the following remarks about the legend of Wm. Tell:

> A picture here of William Tell pushing on in his boat after having killed Gessler, led me to inquire of a competent authority how well attested the world-renowned story was, and I regret to say that the antiquarians of Switzerland are much inclined to give the story a mythic origin and interpretation. The tale will, however, survive all historical skepticism, having been accepted as true to humanity, if not to fact. In short, it ought to be true if it is not.

At the demonstration in San Francisco in honor of Casserly the Democracy had a grand fight. The dispatch says that the band played "Marching through Georgia," which no doubt roused the ebullition of Democratic feeling. The assembled Democracy could not bear that "Vandal" air without getting fighting mad. The band should have played "Dixie" or "My Maryland."

The latest style of bonnet has turned up at Richmond, Indiana. It is described as consisting of two straws tied together with blue ribbon on the top of the head, and red tassels suspended at each of the four ends of the straws. Price $10.

STATE ITEMS.

The Sa[illegible] flouring mill is now making 400 barrels of flour per day.

The Union men of Oakland propose organizing a Grant Club early in January.

Judge Skinner has returned to Eugene from Coos county, where he has been holding a term of Court.

G. W. Lawson, Esq., of Salem intends, as we learn, to [illegible] to [illegible] soon. He has good prospects in that State.

A letter from [illegible] to the Sentinel says that the Met[illegible] of that place have recently ornamented their church with a fine and elegant sounding bell, the first church bell ever heard in that valley.

Religious meetings are continued in Roseburg, and the different churches are constantly adding to their members. There has also been quite a revival at Oakland, and several have joined the church at that place.

A Eugene paper says: Last Wednesday the Sheriff of Coos county arrived here, having in charge four prisoners, convicted at the special term of the Circuit Court. One is sent [illegible] to five years for burglary; the other three have shorter terms, for being engaged in a riot.

The subject of the following notice, which we copy from the Record, is the individual who writes such terrible articles against "Negro Equality:" "Mr. Abbott, of the Democrat, came down last Friday with the delegation of colored people who desire to attend the anniversary of Emancipation. While he has lent his countenance to the good cause thus far, we regret that urgent business calls make it inconvenient for him to attend the services on next Wednesday."

The Salem Record says the colored people of that place are preparing to have a celebration of the Emancipation Proclamation anniversary next Wednesday. Quite a delegation came down last Friday from Albany to be on hand. There will be about fifty colored people gathered together from this place and others. We respect the feeling which induces this celebration, and consider it a remarkable evidence of the progress the race is making. We understand they meet for their own pleasure and profit not with the expectation of drawing a large outside audience.

The Eugene Journal says: G. H. Moses and Norris Humphrey, of this place, have put in wells lately without the trouble of digging and curbing. The plan is to drive an iron bar about two inches and a half in diameter as deep as they wish the well to be, and then insert the pipe; the only style of pump used so far at this place is the Douglas. By this way a well can be made deep enough at any season of the year to furnish an inexhaustible supply of water. Another advantage over ordinary wells is, when a person rents a place without a well he can put one in, and then take it away with him if the landlord refuses to pay for the improvement.

THE OPINION OF AN OFFICER IN THE ARMY.—"At inspection I noticed that a large proportion of the men's knapsacks contained a box of Troches, being generally used by them for Colds, etc." "Brown's Bronchial Troches" should be used upon the first appearance of a Cold or Cough, which by neglect may terminate in some incurable Lung Disease.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF IDAHO—Boise City, I. T.—Organized March 11th, 1867, (with circulation) under Act of Congress, approved June 3d, 1864. Authorized capital $500,000. Paid up capital $150,000. B. M. Dutell, President. C. W. Moore, Cashier. Collections of Notes and Accounts on the principal places of Idaho Territory promptly attended to. RECREATION AND AMUSEMENT.—It is necessary that mortals should have some amusement, and since our city is not blessed with an elegant theatre, or some place of innocent amusement, it is the duty of every man to see that his acquaintances coming to our city should at least be pleased, and how can you please them better than by taking them to KOHN & FISHEL'S, No. 91 Front street, to buy one of those handsome suits they keep for sale.

Buchtel's Photograph Gallery is the only establishment in Oregon that is thoroughly prepared to do all the different styles of work in the art. Photographs from card to life size. The new cabinet cards, &c., &c. Small pictures enlarged (retouched in India ink—painted in water-colors or oil) by Mrs. S. J. Rumsey. Pictures that are fading can be reproduced in this way. All negatives taken in this gallery will be carefully preserved, and additional copies had. I have now on hand a very large collection of negatives, the names of which are recorded alphabetically in a book for that purpose that can be seen in the reception room.

Where I've opened my Budget—'twas filled to the brim
With every nice Toy that could talk, walk or swim.
I've Musical [illegible] and Guitars for the fair
And Gifts for the Gents that are both rich and rare,
Whilst my Budget includes the nicest new Toys
Intended as Gifts to good Girls and Boys!
I've the Ark in which Grandfather Noah was kept
When all other creatures from the world were swept,
(For men in those days would in evil persist,
So the world was washed by an Oregon mist!)
I've Babies of Wyllie, of wax and of leather,
(They were all made to order), and well put together;
I've Vases and Cups nicely gilded outside,
And little Cook H[illegible] for Bobbies to ride;
I've Cup[illegible] and Pistols which cannot explode,
For the reason they hold neither wadding or load.
I've steamboats that run—you just wind them in front
And they'll beat the Cascade or the Wilson G. Hunt.
I've a new Locomotive—it can never explode,
'Twas built for the use of Gaston's Railroad,
I've Engines that play—Set them down on the floor
And they'll throw greater streams than old '2' or new '4.'
I've Pyr[illegible], Fiddles, and French [illegible],
Soldiers that look like B. B. Pioneers.
I've Swords made of tin—Guns and Pistols as well,
And the new kind of Drum that rings like a bell.
I've Masks of all sizes I've Grace Hoops, galore,
And you'll find at McCORMICK'S a thousand Toys more,
On FRONT STREET the Store is—105,
Where TOYS are as plenty as bees in a hive;
Go there and buy them—this is my request,
His Prices are Low and his Stock is the Best.

A STATE NORMAL SCHOOL.—Most teachers have, doubtless, read the proceedings of the Multnomah County [illegible] Institute, and all friends of education should do so. One of the resolutions adopted contains a very [illegible] suggestion, as follows: "That on account of the great diversity in the methods of instruction, practiced by the different teachers in our State, it is the united opinion of the members of this Institute, that the great [illegible] in our State, so far as public education is concerned, is a State Normal School." The resolution sets forth one of the reasons why a Normal school should be established, but not by any means, the only [illegible] one. That great diversity in the methods of teaching is hurtful to the cause of school education, is [illegible] without argument; but the want of all [illegible] is a greater evil. About three-fourths of the [illegible] have no method of teaching—they simply "keep school." If their pupils learn anything of value they do it without being taught. The school [illegible] are, most of them, willing enough to be teachers, but they were not born with the gift of teaching and have never acquired it. This is the great evil in the common school system and is the one which Normal Schools were and are designed to correct. The [illegible] of such a school is not so much to secure uniformity of methods as to teach teachers how to teach. It is a school for persons who contemplate entering the [illegible] of teaching. About one in [illegible] hundred may succeed without any such preparation; ninety-nine others may keep school and get fair salaries and yet be [illegible] failures all their lives, as teachers. Patrick Henry was about the only lawyer we ever heard of, who succeeded without [illegible] study. There have been a few men eminent [illegible] and trades without being educated to them; but the rule is otherwise. The rule is [illegible] as forcibly to [illegible] as to other [illegible] or occupations. And yet [illegible] of our common schools are the only [illegible], bunglers and unqualified people whom we hire at full salaries. The habits of the people in this [illegible] of school keepers [illegible] remedy we know [illegible] of a State Normal School, with as many county schools of similar [illegible] as [illegible]. Start the [illegible] for the [illegible] who wants [illegible] to go [illegible]. If he or she prove apt and competent, grant a [illegible], or certificate to that effect; if the candidate [illegible] dull or incompetent, let the diploma [illegible] the individual go to chopping cord-wood or washing. Such a course would weed out the corps of [illegible], but that is the thing most needed. Give [illegible] Schools. We trust that the various Teachers' [illegible] of the State will keep this matter before [illegible] till the [illegible] be gained.

THE [illegible]—The new church [illegible] erected by the Unitarian Society of Portland, [illegible] of the M. E. Church, [illegible], of the [illegible] and [illegible] of the Presbyterian [illegible] He is quite a young [illegible] a good deal of [illegible] by the entire [illegible], which was as large as the building could hold, [illegible] to the heart [illegible] child-like simplicity, and it will be only [illegible] the truth to say that he [illegible] We have yet to hear of one [illegible], both with the [illegible] which claimed their [illegible] The [illegible] from 250 to 300 [illegible] The Society [illegible] $4,900, [illegible] the lot on which it [illegible] Society of the [illegible] and $800 of the [illegible] Society has been [illegible] of members, the [illegible] The organ [illegible] The [illegible] is now [illegible] and the worshipping congregation will take this [illegible]

[illegible] OPPOSITION—[illegible] the P. T. Co. applied to Judge Upton, in vacation, for [illegible] to N. [illegible] and Silas [illegible] Oregon City, with their [illegible] but as we understand the matter, the [illegible] to the right of [illegible] to take the [illegible] for the purpose [illegible] The Co. will await further [illegible] in that respect [illegible] plaintiff Reed for [illegible]

Howard, a resident of the Tillamook valley: [illegible] been visited with a flood [illegible] on the bottom lands are drowned out. On [illegible] at an early hour, we were called on to go and [illegible] the few that were surrounded by water. The [illegible] and boats have been carried away. It is now [illegible] cold and the [illegible] on the [illegible] till next July. The warehouse of G. W. Miller went with the roof.

[illegible] The Senator was taken [illegible] from her wharf here to Oregon City. Next [illegible] morning she will commence [illegible] daily trips under [illegible] Capt. [illegible] Oregon City every morning at 7 A. M., and, returning, leave the P. T. Co.'s [illegible] Portland at [illegible] P. M. Charley Pope goes as Purser, and Kellogg the younger, as Mate. The Alert will continue her daily trips as heretofore. We will thus have two steamers to Oregon City, each day, Sundays excepted.

THE WEATHER.—The [illegible] day and Sunday [illegible] its wrath a little during Sunday night and we had a slight fall of snow which finally [illegible] and [illegible] the [illegible] of the winter, if [illegible] and slop can be [illegible] During the [illegible] the boys had a "big [illegible]"—on the [illegible] but the thaw [illegible] out the skating business before night.

REMOVAL.—Our old townsman, Orin Taylor, is about to [illegible] from this city to Dayton, Yamhill county, where he is going into the general mercantile [illegible] extensive scale, as we are informed. We noticed his household goods on the P. T. Co.'s wharf yesterday awaiting [illegible]

THE LOSSES AT THE FLOODS.—A statistician whose researches sometimes take curious turns, has been investigating the [illegible] of the late floods of this [illegible] and [illegible] the discovery that the effects were most severe on the "laying population." We have surrendered our hat.

PRODUCE.—Arrived per steamer Alert, from Oregon City, yesterday, 516 bags wheat, 1,200 qr sks flour, 20 hf bbls and 17 boxes miscellaneous produce, 1 box eggs, 15 [illegible] lard, 55 gunnies bacon, 18 boxes butter, 200 sks feed, 40 cases pork, 565 boxes apples and 2 bales woolen [illegible]

DAILY MAIL TO OSWEGO.—On and after to-day there will be a daily mail service between this city and Oswego, to be carried as upon present arrangements, by the Alert leaving here at her usual hour. Hitherto the service has been only weekly.

LINE DOWN.—The telegraph line was working to Oregon City yesterday morning, but before night it broke somewhere between Judge Strong's and Oregon City. At the closing hour last evening there was no communication in either direction.

BENEFIT TO JOE DELAVAN AND CHARLEY TAYLOR.—As will be seen by the card of the beneficiaries, the complimentary benefit tendered to Joe Delavan and Charley Taylor, will take place next Friday evening at Oro Fino Hall.

LADIES' RELIEF SOCIETY.—The Ladies Relief Society will meet in the basement of the Presbyterian Church to-day (Tuesday), at 2½ o'clock P. M. All ladies interested in the relief of the poor of this city, are invited to attend.

PRAYER SERVICES.—The Union Meeting for conference and prayer will be held in the M. E. Church this evening at the usual hour. Watch night [illegible] will be held to-night at the same place, beginning at 10 o'clock P. M.

CARGO OF LUMBER.—The proprietors of the Rainier lumber mills, have contracted to saw a cargo of 850,000 feet of lumber, for the master of the bark Occident, expected soon to arrive from San Francisco.

THE "PORTLAND EVENING BULLETIN."—The prospectus of this new paper is issued, from which we learn that the first number will appear on Monday, January 6th, and thereafter daily at 4 o'clock P. M.

SOCIAL PARTY.—The Fenian Guard give a social party at their armory, this evening. We acknowledge the receipt of cards of invitation to that, as well as to the Social Hop at Harbaugh's Hall.

AUCTION.—Remember Falk & Kr[illegible] auction sale this day at 10 o'clock.

EDITORIAL CHANGE.—We learn that Mr. S. W. Brown is about to retire from the editorial charge of the Vancouver Register. We have no intimation as to who his successor will be.

Dr. Homles lays it down, as a singular law of nature, that at a certain period of life, say from fifty to sixty and upward, the grand paternal instinct awakens in bachelors, the rhythms of nature reaching them in spite of her defeated intentions, so that when men marry late they love their autumn child with a two-fold affection—father's and grand-father's both in one. So, it seems, it is possible for a man to be a grand-father to his own child!

Women have a much nicer sense of the beautiful than men. They are, by far, the safer umpires in the matters of propriety and grace. A mere school girl will be thinking and writing about the beauty of birds and flowers, while her brother is robbing the nest and destroying the flowers.

CAPITOL, OLYMPIA, Dec. 11th, 1867.

DR. GROSS, Portland—Sir: I have been in the habit of using the "HENLEY ROYAL BALSAM" in my family, who reside at Wallula, Walla Walla county, W. T. I am now at Olympia, attending the present session of the Legislature, and the climate is so different from that of Walla Walla county that I have taken cold, and I have endeavored to purchase some of the medicine here but was unable to do so. Please send a bottle up immediately by mail. I have used nothing else in my family and cannot get along without it. Yours truly,
J. M. VANSYCKLE.

DR. G. W. COOL,
DENTIST.

THOSE WHO DESIRE FIRST-CLASS DENTAL SERVICES might do well to give him a call. He is making a NEW AND IMPROVED VULCANITE PLATE. The nature of his improvement consists in lining the entire concave surface with fine gold; it makes the plate twice as strong and one-third times thinner than the common vulcanite plate. It also prevents the acids of the mouth from roughing the plate, and from turning it black, which is a common occurrence. One half of the common vulcanite plates turn black after being in use a short time, particularly where tobacco is used for smoking. This new style of plate admits of a very fine finish on the concave or palate surface. His office is the only place where such work can be had. The improvement is his own invention, for which he has received, December, 3d, 1867, a patent from the United States Patent Office. He has been making this style of work for the last two and a half years, and has specimens of the work which can be seen at his office. This work has given satisfaction in every case.

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER.
THE UNIVERSAL REMEDY FOR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL COMPLAINTS!

At this period there are but few of the human race unacquainted with the merits of the Pain Killer; but while some extol it as a liniment, they know but little of its power in easing pain when taken internally, while others use it internally with great success, but are equally ignorant of its healing virtues when applied externally. We therefore wish to say to all that it is equally successful whether used internally or externally, and it stands alone, unrivalled by all the great catalogue of Family Medicines, and its sale is universal and immense. The demand for it from India and other foreign countries is equal to the demand at home, and it has become known in these far off places by its merits.

Just Cause for being Alarmed.—When a Cough has been running for a long time, and you begin to feel a pain setting in upon your lungs, attended with tightness across the chest, it is high time that you should awaken to the danger of your disease, which is fast running into Consumption. Now, before it is too late, use ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM, which will cure the disease, and all will be well with you. For sale by the Dealers in Family Medicines generally.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE AGAINST
Fever and Ague and [illegible] Fortifies the system [illegible] and the evil effects of unwholesome [illegible] the organs of digestion and the bowels;
Steadies the Nervous and tends to [illegible] Life.
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous [illegible], General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, [illegible] and Remittent Fevers, [illegible] and all the [illegible] the sex arising from bodily Weakness [illegible]
PRODUCED BY SURGICAL CARE

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless cathartic, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a Great Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to [illegible] and re-establish them.

BY J. ASHBY STERRY.

Am I forgiven? You smile through your tears, love,
May I return to your favor again?
Tell me, O quickly! and quiet my fears love—
Yours be the task, dear, to lighten my pain;
No more wet lashes, nor sobbing and pouting,
Nor angry feelings to dwell in your breast—
Banish all sadness, all sorrow and doubting,
Try to forget when my faults I've confessed,
Grieved beyond measure, (I say that I'm shriven!)
Tell me my treasure, now—Am I forgiven?

Am I forgiven? Now dry your eyes, dearest—
You'd ne'er be hurt by Kate Calloner's wiles,
Look in my face now, your kindest and clearest;
Dimples look better, love, brimming with smiles.
Where was the harm in that least bit of flirting?
Chatting with Kate as she sat on the stair—
Could you imagine I meant to be hurting,
Trifling or trying to cause you a care?
Man is but mortal, and hard have I striven;
Tell me, my pretty one—Am I forgiven?

Am I forgiven? A sin one confesses,
You know, mia cara, is almost atoned—
Pitying glances and tender caresses,
Show me already my fault is condoned;
Sunshine at last, and of tears no more traces,
Sweet smiles are striving to drive away sighs,
Pleasure o'erflushes the fairest of faces,
Love is aglow in the brightest of eyes!
Faith nursed by charity ever has thriven—
What do you say, darling—Am I forgiven?

The Wool Prospect.

The following interesting article on this subject is from the report of the Department of Agriculture for the month of October. It contains matter which will be of interest to all classes of people:

An extract from Medina county, Ohio, thus queries concerning wool.

"Wool sells ruinously low, about 40 cents per pound on an average. In consequence, the farmers are not increasing their flocks, but express a desire to diminish them. Is this wise? Do you see anything in the future to encourage this branch of agriculture? I would like to see an expression of your opinion in the next monthly report."

It is manifestly unwise to destroy an interest of such magnitude because circumstances, temporarily existing, have diminished its profits. It is unwise to abandon it because its enemies have been able to cripple it by excessive importation during the pendency of the question of its protection. It is an old game, hitherto successful with them, first, to glut the market on the eve of the imposition of a duty, and afterwards to declare the resultant stagnation in prices to be the direct effect of the law. All the mischief has been done that can be done. The most potent element of cure is time, in which to consume the surplus of foreign wools which were thrown upon the market, primarily for the profit of avoiding the coming duty, incidentally for the discouragement, such as it would bring, of domestic manufacturers. Wool-growers who hold on may expect a gradual improvement, which will be sure to follow, unless [illegible] arise. The following statement of this influx of foreign wool [illegible] report for 1866, in the volume now in press:

"The country has been flooded with imported [illegible] goods since July 1, 1864, in anticipation of an increase in the duties, which was so long delayed that a ruinous [illegible] of domestic wools was the result. The [illegible] it will be apparent by an exhibition of official figures of wool imports. It will be [illegible] that the four years of war were [illegible] years of excessive importation [illegible] nearly two hundred and fifty-two millions of pounds of wool and twenty-[illegible] millions of shoddy, and that during the last year of the period, 1865, ending three [illegible] the close of the war and the [illegible] result [illegible] inevitable, the importation was reduced to forty millions of dutiable wool, and a little more than three millions of free wool from Canada. The reduction should have [illegible] as we now produce about one hundred [illegible] millions in a single year if the business promises to pay. [illegible] an enormous increase was made, not only through the fiscal year of 1866, but from July to March, 1867, when the wool tariff went into effect, as follows:

Years.	Dutiable.	Free.	Total.
[illegible]	Pounds.	Pounds.	Pounds.
[illegible]	[illegible]	3,456,070	45,356,154
[illegible]	58,917,081	1,206,284	60,123,365
[illegible]			23,265,111

[illegible] the shoddy, the increase was nearly [illegible]. The imports of the year [illegible] June 30, 1867, were 34,325,141 pounds, [illegible] 25,779,863, shoddy, 5,086,167, pounds, [illegible] a glut in the wool market was the result, [illegible] did not decline, because [illegible] held in bond in [illegible] importation by high [illegible] material [illegible] the consumption of [illegible] Nor was this all; manufacturers as well as farmers, were [illegible] importation of woolens. In fact [illegible] equalling in a [illegible] of woolens for the entire [illegible] the following totals will [illegible]:

[illegible] June 30, 1865 ......$47,766,015
[illegible] June 30, 1866 21,940,720
[illegible] June 30, 1867 37,119,321

"This is a sum equal to the present total value of the annual wool clip of the United States, [illegible] low price for wool will [illegible] this immense stock of goods [illegible] the old army supplies exhausted, [illegible] of supply and demand is [illegible].

"Of the [illegible] imported in the year ending June 30, [illegible] was in direct competition with our own [illegible] of wool, and about thirty seven millions [illegible] pounds of which came in at three [illegible] duty, and nearly all of it was clothing wool [illegible] equal to [illegible]. Fine wools, imported in the dirt, came to at [illegible] their internal revenue taxes upon [illegible] wool growers. The quantity at each rate [illegible]:

[illegible]	Value.	Rate of duty.
34,[illegible]	$2,423,417	3 cents.
[illegible]	5,705,399	6 cents.
3,[illegible]	2,386	10 cents and 10 per cent.
300,[illegible]	180,078	12 cents and 10 per cent.

[illegible] more than we should import in three years [illegible] of duty that was a direct discrimination in favor of foreigners equivalent to the [illegible] duty [illegible] actually paid. Added to this was the import of woolens, costing in gold fifty [illegible] millions of dollars, and in greenbacks, with freight and commissions added, fully one hundred millions; the whole requiring as much foreign wool to produce it as the entire importation of the [illegible] years of the war. Can sensible manufacturers and intelligent wool growers expect prosperity till this glut in the market is removed? That it is being removed, since [illegible] the falling off in importations shows.

[illegible] not despair. His [illegible] his farm, while wheat and corn growing impoverishes it, and he is comparatively [illegible] which [illegible] to destroy all profit from bulky farm products. And the price will inevitably prove remunerative if its manufacture shall not be broken down by foreign competition.

The facts of wool and woolen importations, and the history of the woolen manufacture in this country, show that we have arrived at a period [illegible] must follow either domestic manufactures must mainly occupy the field of [illegible] supply, or foreign goods will fill the markets of the country, stop the factories, destroy [illegible] husbandry, reduce the price of wheat and other grain by increasing the number of consumers and increasing the number of competing consumers.

The following extract from the annual report of the statistical division embodies a digest of such [illegible]:

"The aggregate importation of woolens for each decade, and the average per year for forty years, ending in 1860, are as follows:

	Aggregate.	Annl. Av.
Ten years ending in 1830	$86,182,110	$8,618,211
Ten years ending in 1840	129,336,258	12,933,625
Ten years ending in 1850	109,023,552	10,902,355
Ten years ending in 1860	282,682,830	28,268,283
Forty years ending in 1860	611,224,780	15,280,615

"In 1830, when this importation commenced, manufacturing was at its lowest ebb, the value of its [illegible] product having been reduced to $4,413,068, by [illegible] importation after the close of the war of 1812, from $25,608,788 in 1810, just as foreign [illegible] by American importers, at the close of the late war, and the fall of gold, are [illegible] both the wool growing and wool manufacturing interests by flooding the country with a vast surplus of foreign woolens. While suffering a series of fluctuations, caused by more or less successful efforts to break down the barriers to over-importation, the progress of manufacturing has been gradual and comparatively regular. In 1839 the product of woolen manufactures had increased to $14,528,166; in 1840 it was $20,696,999; in 1850, $43,207,545; in 1860, $68,865,963; in 1864 a return of manufacturers, representing about three fourths of the total number of sets of machinery, made an aggregate of $120,000,000.

"With the increase of the manufacture of wool, step by step, advanced the production of wool. The census of 1850 made the clip of that year 52,516,959 pounds; that of 1860 returned 60,511,343. The yield of 1864 was estimated at 95,000,000; that of 1866, 115,000,000. The increase of manufacturing and the relative consumption of wool at different periods may be gathered from the following statement, with the qualification that the wool importation of 1865 was less than the consumption of foreign wool for that year, while that of 1866 was far more than that year's consumption. There was also, in round numbers, four millions of pounds of shoddy in the former, and seven millions in the latter year, not counted in the statement:

United States Products and Imports—No. lbs.:

1840.	1850.	1860.	1865.	1866.
35,802,114	52,516,959	60,511,343	105,000,000	115,000,000
15,006,410	18,669,794	34,556,667	40,272,075	67,917,031
50,808,524	71,186,753	95,068,[illegible]	145,272,075	182,917,031

"It is not that woolen importations are so much heavier than formerly, in proportion to population. As shown above, the average for forty years, when we manufactured comparatively little was $15,680,618. With population doubled and foreign prices at least fifty per cent. greater than twenty five years ago, $45,000,000 would not be a large proportionate importation. Then we manufactured scarcely half the annual consumption; now we manufacture three-fourths, and of most goods can easily manufacture for the entire demand, so that any importation tends to drug the market. This is the literal fact, and the future will show how sensitive a full market is to the slightest surplus—just as a few drops will overflow a brimming glass. All the woolen imported in four years of war amounted to but $87,7[illegible]2,918, or $21,946,726 annually; actually a less quantity of goods than was bought for $15,680,618 annually for forty years commencing in 1821; but in the mean time the products of our mills had grown from four millions of dollars in 1829, to one hundred and fifty or sixty millions in 1864."

A Curious Story—Fact or Fiction.

The Paris Siecle publishes a curious story concerning one Cæsar Moreno, who is said to be an Italian, a native of Piedmont, and speaking forty-two languages. He was recently sent for by Victor Emanuel. "As you are acquainted with every known patois you can talk to my Ethiopians," said the King; the said Ethiopians, having been sent over by the viceroy of Egypt, with a present of Arabian horses. The blacks were sent for. Moreno, to their amazement, addressed them in their native idiom. "What did they say to you?" inquired the king after the negroes' departure. "That your majesty was wrong to have had them baptized, because they have remained Mussulmans in heart and soul. Blessed water lost, sire!" The King laughed.

In his youth Moreno went to India and became aid-de-camp to Nena Sahib. At Cawnpore he had a duel with an English officer, who laid his head open with a sabre, on which he leveled his revolver, and while quoting from "Richard III.," "Despair and die," shot his adversary dead. After the [illegible] of Nena Sahib, Moreno, went to Singapore, where some Malays told him of an island where [illegible] of gold and mines of diamonds are in abundance, Moreno accordingly freights a schooner, and, assisted by his Malay friends, arrived at this Eldorado, which is inhabited by a diminutive race of blacks, who looked upon him much as the Aztecs did on Cortez, and he is forthwith led before their chief, whose palace is formed of the interwoven branches of a palm tree. Moreno makes himself so agreeable that no less than three of the chief's daughters are bestowed on him as wives. Meanwhile he explores the Island, draws a map thereof, and having obtained his father-in-law's leave to pay a short visit to his white friends, he arrives at Florence, where he obtains an audience of Victor Emanuel, and urges him to fit out an expedition to take possession of this auriferous Island. The king, however, what with Garibaldi and Bismarck, has enough on hand just now. Moreno, considerably disgusted, starts for Paris, where he now is, awaiting the arrival of the Emperor and an audience which he has solicited.

If he finds his proposal to extend the French possessions in the East rejected by the Cabinet of the Tuileries, Moreno starts for New York, where he flatters himself he will form a company, in whose power he will take possession of the Island, dethrone his fatherlin law, and establish factories, whence the neglected wealth of this Eldorado will flow in ship loads of gold and precious stones to the [illegible] of Europe.

[illegible] the Proprietor begs to state a few facts in relation to it, as follows:

It originated in [illegible], where the science of Medicine [illegible] but owing to the [illegible] its wonderful properties were not known beyond the limited circle of his acquaintance, [illegible] infallible [illegible] from the eyes.

He immigrated to this country, bringing his discovery with him, but seems to have been indifferent to the propriety of giving it general and wide-spread circulation, and, as previously in his native country, [illegible] only desirous of [illegible] his friends and neighbors.

The present proprietor was one of those neighbors, and for [illegible] years was a witness to its wonderful efficacy, and, after [illegible] efforts to persuade the inventor to more widely disseminate the knowledge of its virtues, finally [illegible] the [illegible] or of the secret of its preparation.

And now, while he does not deny that he hopes and expects to make money by its sale, he must yet lay claim to a desire to benefit his fellows by presenting to them a remedy which does and will cure where medical science and all experience have failed.

He wishes it to be understood that it will cure all diseases of the eye, whether of recent or long standing; but its greatest power is exhibited when it is applied to old Chronic Cases of long standing, which have resisted every other attempt to cure them, and which have been given up as hopeless and past being cured or relieved.

He asks those afflicted in this way to give it a trial, and so confident is he of its [illegible] that he instructs all his agents TO REFUND THE MONEY IF IT FAILS TO CURE.

It has, within the past year, cured cases of GRANULATED LIDS, INFLAMMATION, &c., of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN and SEVENTEEN YEARS STANDING, arid [illegible] of which fact is furnished in the testimony of the following persons [illegible] living at and in the neighborhood of Harrisburg, Linn county:

ALEXANDER L. WALKER was cured of inflamed eyes, of nine years standing. Had been treated by eminent physicians during all that time without effect.

Mrs. MONTGOMERY, of Harrisburg, had inflamed eyes for over two years. For one year they were so bad that she could not work. Was finally completely cured by the Ophthalmic Panacea.

R. B. MOORE, of the firm of Moore, Garst & Baber, of Harrisburg, had granulated lids for six years.

NATHANIEL BELL, of Clackamas county, had inflamed eyes [illegible] for over fifteen years.

ROBERT RAMSEY and W. B. PORTER, of Harrisburg; JOHN M. HOLLOWAY, of Linn County; G. R. WARD, of Lane County, were all afflicted, more or less severely, with [illegible] eyes, and were cured by the Ophthalmic Panacea.

All the above [illegible] have given lengthy testimonials to the facts as above stated, which may be seen at the proprietor's office in Harrisburg.

CARD.

DR. BARLOW J. SMITH'S WATER CURE AND Phrenological Institute, 627 Sacramento Street, San Francisco. This is the only Regular Water Cure in Francisco, where all curable diseases are treated without drugs. Dr. Smith was the first to establish a water cure on this coast, based upon the theory and practice of the New York Hydropathic College.

We have a truly healthful boarding place for men, women and children, and our prices are moderate.

The Phrenological organs plainly indicate the diseases to which any person, male or female, is predisposed.

Put this card in your hat, and when you come to San Francisco, call on Dr. Smith. He will give you consultation and a phrenological examination in regard to health. It will cost you nothing and may save you months and years of ill health and "bad luck."

Dr. Smith gives free lectures to gentlemen every Friday evening, on subjects pertaining to health, at his Phrenological Hall, 627 Sacramento Street.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs [illegible] fully treated

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, [illegible] ted and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, so that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

[illegible] the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, [illegible] with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, [illegible] about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, [illegible], loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, [illegible], pimples and various eruptions about the face, [illegible], fœted breath, coughs, [illegible], night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If aid be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

TO THE LADIES.

The various complicated and distressing diseases incident to females, treated with eminent success. Such as Suppressions, Irregularities, Whites, Falling of the Womb, Tumors, all Urinary Diseases, Nervous Debility, Painful or Difficult Menstruation, Barrenness, etc., will be speedily cured, without poisonous drugs, injuries or unpalatable medicines of any kind. Have no delicacy in calling, no difference what your troubles may be. The afflicted are cordially invited to call and satisfy themselves.

Persons calling at Dr. Gibbon's office or sending for packages of medicines, may rely upon his assurances of confidential secrecy with implicit faith, and expect no more than to be charged with, a fair, and mutually satisfactory remuneration for services rendered, considering the circumstances and difficulties of cases, rather than a too prevalent and selfish practice of extortion among quacks and pretenders.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 852.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 852 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian
